

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election -- passing it off as 'news' -- is an abuse of their license. Airing this program amounts to a free campaign ad for Bush, forces down the viewer's throats at their own expense.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest.